

Pondicherry University
Southern Asia Studies Programme
School of Social Sciences &
International Studies

Cordially invites you to a talk on

“India’s Relations with its South East Asian Neighbours”

Ambassador Sudhir T. Devare

Date & Time: April 15, 2013, at 10.30a.m. onwards

Venue: Seminar Hall, SSS&IS

Silver Jubilee Campus

Pondicherry University

About the Speaker

Ambassador Sudhir T. Devare Joined the Indian Foreign Service (IFS) in 1964. He served former Secretary, Ministry of External Affairs and ex-Director General of Indian Council of World Affairs, New Delhi. He also served as First Indian Ambassador to the newly formed Republics of Ukraine, Armenia and Georgia, (1992-94), Ambassador of India to Indonesia (1994-1998), Prime Minister’s

Personal Representative to G-15, a grouping of emerging economies from Asia, Africa and Latin America. Leader of Indian official-level delegations to the conferences of Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) and India, ASEAN Regional Forum, G77 (Group of Developing Countries in United Nations in New York), Indian Ocean Rim-Association for Regional Cooperation, BIMSTEC. He was a member of National Security Advisory Board, Govt. of India (2001-03), etc. He has published several books and research papers in journals of national & international repute.

Prof. N.K. Jha

Dean, SSS&IS