

ADVERTISEMENT
Walk in Interview

Wanted One Research Associate and One Junior Project Fellow for the project entitled “Climatic change and its biodiversity significance on live larger foraminiferan in a selective coral reef environment, Port Blair, South Andaman, India”. This project is sponsored by Department of Science and Technology, New Delhi. The tenure of the study is 24 months. Essential qualification is First Class M.Sc. Marine Biology/ Life Sciences/ Marine Sciences Degree.

The Research Associate should have Ph.D. Degree in Marine Biology/ Marine Sciences with Live Larger Foraminiferan studies in the nearshore or deep sea environment. The monthly fellowship amount is Rs.36,000/- for the said post.

The Junior Project Fellow should have the basic essential qualification as mentioned above with research experience on foraminiferan. The monthly fellowship amount is Rs.25,000/- (NET Qualified) Rs.18,000/- (others) for project Fellow.

The eligible candidate with their Bio-data and Xerox copies of Certificate and Original Certificate may walk in interview between 14.00 to 14.30 hrs on 07th August 2017 (Monday). The venue is Department of Ocean Studies and Marine Biology (BOSMB), Brookshabad Campus, Port Blair (PB) –744 112. This post is purely temporary and co-terminated with the project tenure.

Dr.P.M.Mohan, DOSMB, PB.