DIR/5/16/11-VVGM Award

May 18, 2011

Dear Vice-Chancellor,

V.V. Giri National Labour Institute (VVGNI) is an autonomous body under the Ministry of Labour & Employment, Government of India. This is a premier national level Institute mandated to further the cause of labour welfare through training, research and education. Since its inception in 1974, the Institute has been engaged in research, training, education and publication activities to reach all those who are concerned with various aspects of labour, both in the organized and unorganized sector.

In furtherance to the mandated objectives of the Institute, it has introduced a special award – V.V. Giri Memorial Award in Labour & Employment. The award would be presented to the author of outstanding research work in the area of labour. The award will carry a cash prize of Rs.1 lakh and a citation. The theme for the Award for the year 2010 is “Research and Training in Labour Administration and Industrial Relations.”

Scholars and labour practitioners are all invited to apply for consideration for this Award. Interested applicants should provide complete details of their research work in the identified area, which is to be considered for the Award, along with copies of the published work and an abstract of not more than 500 words elaborating upon the conclusions in the particular research work and its wider applicability in the social sector. Signed applications/nominations along with full contact details may be forwarded so as to reach the Director, V.V. Giri National Labour Institute, Sector-24, NOIDA and also by e-mail to directorvvgnli@gmail.com by June 10, 2011.

The Institute and the Committee of Jury reserve the right to accept applications/nominations or reject the same if found incomplete in any respect. The Institute and the Committee of Jury hold the right to consider any nomination other than those received through this advertisement. Further, the Institute also holds the right to consider life-time contribution of experts, if it is found appropriate.

I would be extremely grateful if you could kindly give wide publicity to the matter and arrange to forward nomination(s) if any. I earnestly look forward to your active support and unstinted cooperation so that together we could help enlist responses worthy of a national award of this stature.

I would be most grateful if you could kindly send me a line in confirmation of the receipt of this letter.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

(V.P. Yajurvedi)
