INSTRUCTIONS

1. The confidential report is an important document. It provides the basic and vital inputs for assessing the performance of an officer and for his/her further advancement in his/her career. The officer reported upon, the Reporting Officer and the Reviewing Officer should therefore undertake the duty of filling out the form with a high sense of responsibility.
2. Performance appraisal through Confidential Reports should be used as a tool for human resource development. Reporting Officers should realize that the objective is to develop an officer so that he/she realizes his/her true potential. It is not meant to be a fault-finding process but a development one. The Reporting Officer and the Reviewing Officer should not shy away from reporting shortcomings in performance, attitudes or overall personality of the employee reported upon.
3. The items should be filled with due care and attention and after devoting adequate time. Any attempt to fill the report in a casual or superficial manner will be easily discernible to the higher authorities.
4. If the Reviewing Officer is satisfied that the Reporting Officer had made the report without due care and attention he/she shall record his remarks to that effect against the item and can change the rating with an initial. The competent authority shall enter the remarks in the Confidential Report of the Reporting Officer.
5. The answers are in objective form. The rating scale should be judiciously ticked to measure the performance of the individual as accurately as possible.
6. Although performance appraisal is a yardstick and exercise in order that it may be a tool for human resource development, the Reporting Officer should at regular intervals review the performance and take necessary corrective steps by way of advice etc.
7. It should be the endeavour of each appraiser to present the truest possible picture of the appraiser in regard to his/her performance, conduct, behaviour and potential.
8. Assessment should be confined to the appraiser's performance during the period of report only.
